Organ Energy Analysis (according to classical chinese medicine stems&branches method)

This indicates the strength of your major organs' qi (chi), which affects many aspects of life, mainly your organ health and function and emotions.

Note that in Traditional Chinese Medicine a deficiency or excess is regarded as significant or problematic.

Values: 0 - indicates deficient energy
(although this energy will come into your life in time cycles),
1 & 2 - balanced energy,
3 & 4 & more - high or excess energy.

Characteristics of your 日主 Day Master

This is a description of your day master's personality traits; however your day master strength together with the quantity and quality of the other 4 elements in your natal chart will affect how much of it applies to you. Incoming timely energies will also affect your day master.

Wood is the growing Spring energy from the East.

Yang Wood Day Master personality traits:

Yang wood is the energy of the large tree: strong, powerful, steady, forthright, direct, stern, down-to-earth, straightforward, sturdy, stubborn, unbending, reliable, supportive, outspoken, determined, righteous. Planning and vision are strong points, together with an ability to see a project through to the end, like a tree reaching upwards towards sunlight honorable, deep-rooted, serious and professional at work with a keen sense of responsibility.

Yang wood day masters have strong willpower, not giving up easily in the face of adversity; their reputation and morals are an important issue for them. Sympathetic to those in need of help but authoritarian, bossy, predictable, slow-witted and slow to change or compromise. They can be stiff and thick-skinned when it comes to understanding what is happening around them, giving the impression that they are un-caring.

Characteristics of your Birth Year Animal

Rabbit

Positive Traits: Ambition, Longevity, Finesse, Tact, Virtue, Prudence

Shortcomings: Complexity, Secretiveness, Pedantry, Dilettantism, Hypochondria, Squeamishness

Rabbits are thrifty, and if they loan out money they are sure to collect what's due with interest: not a penny more and not a penny less. "Waste not; want not" may be the motto of some Rabbits.

Others may go to the extreme: do with or do without.

Rabbits are not seeking wealth; they do take good care of what they've acquired through ambition and prudence. They are the detail people but make warm friends with their kind ways and discretion.

Rabbit understands nature ensures firm bonds, especially with Ram and Boar.

Rabbit appreciates fully their good manners and gallantry.

Rabbits avoid stress and conflict, preferring peace and quiet. This makes them a natural for meditation; they were born with knowing Inner Smiles.

The Healing Heart Sound "haww" is an effective method for encouraging those qualities of love and joy that Rabbit so delights in others. Rabbit's own heart would benefit mightily from the physical practice of Spinal Cord Breathing as taught in the Universal Healing Tao chi kung curriculum.

Rabbits can be elegant and refined. Because of their ambition and diplomacy, Rabbits can become successful leaders. Although Rabbits can sit a long, quiet time, they are also nimble and quick, and can be on the other side of the garden in a flash. Before the Inner Smile Meditation, sit with closed eyes and begin laughing, laughing, and laugh some more.

This can be very effective when done in front of the mirror. In fact laughter has been known to heal, so Rabbit's hypochondria stands a good chance of being laughed right down into Mother Earth to be transformed into that sense of well-being so necessary to Rabbit's longevity.

神煞 Symbolic Stars

These exceptional stars are named hereafter their particular character trait potential, which can be potentially positive or negative for the bearer or others who come into contact with them. The effects will always depend on the many variables of astrology e.g. quality and quantity of day master and other elements and the time and place in the chart that the star occurs.

When they come into the chart as annual year luck (or even monthly or daily) they interact with the natal chart energies during that period. Their position in the natal chart generally shows the area of interaction :

Year branch indicates effect on grandparents, parents and the family in the broader sense.

Month branch indicates an effect on the person themselves

Day branch indicates effect on their spouse or the individual's personality

Hour branch indicates effects on children or on the individual's senior year

天乙貴人 Assistance Star In a natal chart, there will be help from un-expected sources, thanks to the goddess Tian Yi. Disastrous situations can become fortunate; and if in your birth chart can enable popularity. In annual luck, it can bring out promotion or more wealth.

华盖 Philosophy Star Interest in esoteric and philosophic matters. In your natal chart, it adds a hard-working and intelligent energy, although too much of this can make for conceit.

羊刃 Aggression Star Gives an underlying tendency to aggression, but can either be good or bad depending on the other energies. Often worse in a strong day master but gives more courage to a weak day master. It can affect the person or their relationships.

十干禄 Prospect Star Reinforces wealth potential, but it can be an overloading force for a strong day master. For a weak day master it is mainly positive assistance.

天德貴人 Benevolent Star Characterised by kindness, modesty, stability and down-to earth qualities; it can be a great boost to potential in a chart.

月德貴人 Kindness Star Reinforces luck in many areas of life for most charts, e.g. marriage prospects, dealing with difficult events or runs of bad luck.

桃花 Romance Star or Peach Blossom Affects emotions, desires, charisma, relationships and marriage luck and even career prospects due to the charismatic side. In some charts, it can leave the person frustrated in relationships and more concerned with sexual conquests.

文昌貴人 Study Star This is an artistic star accompanied by intelligence and often is disinterested in material gains. If it reinforces similar characteristics in the chart, it can well indicate excessive, reclusive behaviour and is common among monks, nuns and hermits.

驿馬 Horse-Travel Star The Horse star means travel, (traditionally by horseback) foreign appointments but also movement and change. If there are more than one of these stars then it could make the person restless.

將星 Commander Star This star is about leadership qualities and in the natal chart would show as authority and presence. In annual stars it can show as independence and enterprising skills.
